TROOP NO. 3 NOTES

By LaVerne Jones

for work is given a ticket which entitles him to draw from the supplies all that he requires for himself and family. No hard and fast rules are laid down, it is not necessary that a man must work every day or for any stated number of hours to get his supplies. It is only necessary that he show a willingness to work, and to do whatever he can to aid in the enterprise. It is a workers cooperative plan whereby a man gives his time and labor in exchange for food. No charity is attached to the plan, as each worker receives food that he earns.

At Compton the plan has grown in five months to such proportions that at the present time there are more than 2000 families who are drawing rations from the warehouse, a total of more than 12,000 persons who are being kept from want by the labor of the heads of families. Automobile mechanics work in the garage maintained by the association to keep in repair the cars loaned for the use of the workers or the cars of the workers themselves. All donations of clothing, furniture, or other commodities are placed in storage to be issued as needed to those who have worked in the association plan.

Bookkeepers, stenographers, auditors, salesmen, and all professions are represented in the Compton enterprise. They all give their services in taking care of the business records of the association which has developed to such vast proportions that a considerable staff of clerks and office workers is kept busy.

Salesmen, now humorously termed "chiselers" are sent out every day to secure the donations of material, required in the upkeep of the affair, and to find places to sell the labor of the registered workers.

As a means to make easy the "sale" of this labor among the Japanese farmers of the district, Mr. Downing exhibited a letter he had received from the Japanese consul at Los Angeles, in which the consul approved the enterprise and recommended to the Japanese farmers their co-operation with Mr. Downing.

Compton will co-operate with Torrance in aiding this organization to establish itself, and by the exchange of commodities so that each community may have a variety of foodstuffs to distribute.

The Torrance audience gathered in the city hall Monday night adopted the idea with great enthusiasm. Suggestions, donations of money to provide the new association with petty cash for small running expenses came rapidly. One man reported that he had a job for a skilled beltman, to make a few repairs, and immediately got a couple of addresses and an offer from a man in the audience.

There was an immense desire to help, and an eager willingness among those who are idle to turn their labors over to the new association.

Torrance workers who are out of a job, or who are working part time, are now given the chance to do something to help themselves. All that is needed is willingness. Register at the headquarters at 1324 El Prado, and get to work.

Payment in food is the only wage. No money will be available. Workers of all types will be needed. Right now some idle bookkeeper or stenographer is wanted to start keeping the records. This is a business enterprise, run without capital, based on labor. Every man or woman in Torrance who wants to work for his keep is welcome.

Auto Kills Doe and Fawn
HOUGHTON LAKE, Mich.—(U.P.)—Struck by an automobile, a doe gave birth to a fawn near here recently. Both the doe and fawn died, despite the efforts of conservation officers to save them.

TROOP NO. 4 NOTES

By Roger McGinnis

The second annual father and son-winner bake was held Friday evening in the grounds back of the Scout hall on Carson street. A large number of the fathers attended.

After the winners were all gone, songs were sung, and later, while the fathers discussed scouting activities, the boys played "Capture the Flag."

Jack Fuller, assistant scoutmaster, has returned after a long absence to take an active interest in scouting.

Ancient Prehistoric Jewelry
NEW YORK.—(U.P.)—Jewelry has been worn for at least 100,000 years, according to recent discoveries of the archeologists. The paleolithic man, although he knew nothing of metals, or even of filling the soil, actually mined decorative stones and presented them to the female of the species. The jewelry of a mere 74,000 years ago included 14 different varieties of semi-precious and decorative stones, some of which have persisted in the fashions to our own day.
